

Meike Grosse

Professional Experience

- Since 2016 Scientist in the Research Area 3 "Landscape Research Synthesis" at Leibniz Centre for Agricultural Landscape Research (ZALF), Müncheberg, Project: BonaRes (Soil as a sustainable resource for the Bioeconomy)
- 2011-2016 Junior Scientist and PhD-student at the University of Kassel, Department of Organic Farming & Cropping; Project: TILMAN ORG (Reduced tillage and green manures for sustainable organic cropping systems)

Education

- 2017 Doctorate (Dr. agr.) obtained at the University of Kassel, Theme of PhD thesis: „The effect of cover crops and reduced tillage in organic cropping systems on N-fluxes and weeds“
- 2009-2011 MSc "Organic Agricultural Sciences" at the University of Kassel, Master thesis: "Competitiveness of wheat plants in an evolving wheat population" (Prof. Dr. M.R. Finckh)
- 2010 Research internship (2 months) at the Organic Research Centre, Wakelyns Agroforestry, UK, funded by the DAAD
- 2009-2010 Study abroad (Erasmus stay for one semester) at the University of Natural Resources and Life Sciences (BOKU), Vienna, Austria
- 2006-2009 BSc "Organic Agricultural Sciences" at the University of Kassel, Bachelor thesis: "Variabilität in der F7 von sechs Composite Cross Weizenpopulationen bezüglich Entwicklungsstadien und Schädlingsbefall" (Prof. Dr. M. R. Finckh)