

Dr. Dietmar Lüttschwager

Professional experience

- Since 1992 - present Senior scientist at the Leibniz-Centre for Agricultural Landscape Research (ZALF), Müncheberg
- 1992 Temporary employment abroad (4 months) at INRA Nancy (André Granier) to learn tree-physiological measuring techniques founded by EUROSILVA
- 1983 - 1991 Scientist at the Institute of Forestry Sciences, Eberswalde

Education

- 1990 PhD Dissertation (Dr. rer. nat.) at the Academy of Agricultural Sciences, Title "Investigations of the water supply in trunks of Scots pine trees under natural conditions and human influences"
- 1978 - 1983 Studies of Biology, specialisation plant physiology at the Humboldt-University Berlin, graduation Diploma-Biologist