

Dr. Luise Porst

Position: Project coordination "Land-Innovation-Lausitz" (LIL)
Researcher, Working group "Co-Design of Change and Innovation"

Academic education and scientific degrees

04/2015 – 11/2020 PhD Student (Dr. rer. nat.), Department of Geography, University of Bonn
10/2010 – 09/2012 M. Sc. Regional studies and spatial planning, Karlsruhe Institute of Technology

Professional experience

Since 03/2023 Project coordinator and researcher, Leibniz-Center for Agricultural Landscape Research
08/2019 – 08/2022 Advisor, Climate change adaptation, adelphi GmbH Berlin
12/2013 – 12/2019 Researcher, TRANS|RE project ("Building resilience through translocality. Climate change, migration, social resilience"), Department of Geography, University of Bonn
11/2012 – 11/2018 Junior Advisor, Geographic Information Systems, giz Lesotho (German Society for International Cooperation)

Research Profile

Background

- Resilience, climate risks and adaptation, rural development
- Rural-urban migration, translocality
- Multi-sited research, qualitative research

Research Activities

- Transformation and innovation in Lusatia