

Karin Groth

Professional experience

since 2008	Scientific co-worker (programmer) for the development of computing tools suitable for the spatial landscape analysis and modelling at the Institute of Landscape Systems Analysis of ZALF
1995 - 2008	Programming using databases at the Department of Landscape Information Systems of ZALF
1976 - 1981	Study of technical cybernetics and automation technology at the Technical University Ilmenau with the final examination as academically trained engineer of automation technology
1973 - 1976	Training with the final examination as electronic worker combined with the university entrance qualification