

M.Sc. Meike Weltin

Professional Experience

- Since 11/2015 - now Junior researcher at Leibniz Centre for Agricultural Landscape Research (ZALF)
- 03/2013-08/2013 Intern in the project "Support to the reform process of the vocational educational training system in Tajikistan", German Agency for International Cooperation (GIZ), Dushanbe (Tajikistan)
- 10/2012-01/2013 Research intern in the EU FP7 project "LLLight'in'Europe (LiveLong Learning, Innovation, Growth, and Human Capital Tracks in Europe)", Zeppelin University, Friedrichshafen
- 02/2012-04/2012 Intern in the project „Economic Transformation, household behaviour, and living standard in Central Asia: the case of Kyrgyzstan“, German Institute for Economic Research (DIW), Berlin
- 06/2011-08/2011 Intern in the project „Support to microfinance in Central Asia“, German Agency for International Cooperation (GIZ), Bishkek (Kyrgyzstan)

Education

- October 2015 Degree M.Sc. Agricultural Economics
- 11/2013-10/2015 Student assistant at the department International Agricultural Trade and Development, Humboldt University, Berlin
- 10/2013-10/2015 Master's programme Agricultural Economics, Humboldt University, Berlin
Focus of studies: Quantitative methods and applied econometrics
- June 2012 Degree B.Sc. International Economics and European Studies
- 09/2010-06/2011 Visiting studies in Economics, Higher School of Economics, Moscow (Russia)
- 10/2008-06/2012 Bachelor's programme in International Economics and European Studies, Eberhard-Karls University, Tübingen
Focus of studies: International Trade and Finance, International Economic History, History of Eastern Europe